

ANNOUNCEMENT VOICEMAIL

Announcement Voicemail Boxes Are Programmed To Play An Announcement Only, Without Giving The Caller The Option To Leave A Message.

How It Works

A voicemail box is programmed to answer incoming calls on your number or ours and to play an announcement. Many clients use this as a broadcast method to get the word out or to play a message for callers regarding their services, schedules, or other announcements.

Features

- 10 minute message length.
- 500 minutes of usage included per billing cycle.
- Changeable message.
- Changeable password.
- Can handle up to 4 simultaneous calls.
- Available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Benefits

- Gets your message out to anyone calling.
- Provides your callers with instant access to information.
- No equipment to purchase or maintain.
- Password protection stops your announcement from being changed without authorization.
- Frees up your office phones.
- Saves staff time from giving out routine information.
